The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts announces the return of

THE CLUB AT STUDIO K

Cabaret-style venue offers a mix of celebrated headliners and rising stars in its reopening to the public

The Club at Studio K runs from February through March 2022

(WASHINGTON)—The John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts announces the relaunch of the Club at Studio K, a cabaret-style lounge concept offering world-class arts and culture in an up-close-and-personal setting. Located in the REACH, the Club will offer performances Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturday from February through March 2022.

“The Club at Studio K extends the mission of the REACH, offering the kinds of intimate and informal experiences that 21st-century audiences seek out,” said Simone Eccleston, Director of Hip Hop and Contemporary Music. “With the successful launch of our inaugural season, prior to the pandemic, the Club at Studio K has proven itself as a creative ‘hang space,’ and a dynamic cultural incubator where artists and audiences can connect with each other, collectively generating their experience.”

The Club at Studio K, which initially launched in January 2020, is set to safely reopen with a unique and laid-back atmosphere, featuring more than 20 events including local and hometown performances, such as Washington Improv Theater, Story District, and Sounds of the DMV. Other featured performances this season include the Mortified Podcast, Time Machine Roast, the return of Artistic Advisor for Jazz Jason Moran’s Fats Waller Dance Party, saxophonist and bandleader Immanuel Wilkins; and vocalist Georgia Anne Muldrow brings her multi-genre blend of jazz, R&B, hip-hop, electronica, rock and funk.
